Foreword . . .

At this time of our lives, we all become concerned about our futures, which appear to us as the distant horizons we seem almost never to reach.

This train of thought is loosely embodied as the theme of the 1967 Zephirisco. We have no desire to express this theme with a specific set of words. One definition will not serve to cover all the aspects of the future; individual minds have their own conceptions of it and their own horizons to reach.

We will simply strive to record a bit of the past as accurately and enjoyably as possible, in hopes that someone who fingers through these pages will see an indication of the future, a path to the far horizons ahead. If one person can be helped to do so, this Zephirisco will have served its purpose.
ZHS Student Creed

As a student of Zephyrhills High School, I acknowledge that I have responsibility for the opinion which others may hold about my school and that it is my words and actions concerning school which mold that opinion. I do hereby pledge to refrain from any and all acts which would detract from the appearance of the school or degrade it or myself in any way; to demonstrate my school spirit and in other ways elevate my school's and my own standing; and to show the respect due to all of my teachers, to others in authority at school, and to my fellow students.

Signed,

Every Student,
Zephyrhills
High School
As sponsor of the Beta Club, an organization which encourages students to work toward a more promising future, William Kustes is especially deserving of the dedication of the 1967 ZephilSCO.

Mr. Kustes, a junior class sponsor, also is initiator and sponsor of the high school’s Golf Club. His willing and able assumption of these responsibilities, as well as the performance of his regular duties as a teacher of science and languages, have earned him the respect of both student and fellow teacher and, too, have prompted the annual staff to dedicate, with great pride, this volume of the ZephilSCO to him.
Mr. Raymond B. Stewart leads us toward our distant horizons as he capably and untiringly works for the welfare of the school and its students.

Mrs. Edith Ward and Mrs. Arnita Ferguson help keep school life well organized by doing all the paper work so necessary for a well functioning high school.
Mr. Lewis Wynne, although he operates as our stern truant officer and dean of boys, is well liked by everyone at school.

Mrs. Alpha Gill ably serves as our dean of girls and is admired not only for her capable assumption of this post but for her excellent teaching of our business courses as well.

On Our Faculty

For a teacher, the day does not end with the ringing of the bell at 3:15, as many of you know. Faculty work hours extend far beyond that time to the evenings spent in grading papers and preparing the next day's lessons and to the weekends involved in research and courses to help them keep up with each day's new educational developments.

Yet beyond their academic pursuits, and beyond the posed portraits found in such books as this annual, there will always be the individual memories of the human, everyday sort of person a teacher really is, memories capturing those qualities which, most of all, helped us on our paths to our distant horizons.
Seniors

The senior class of 1967 is proud to acknowledge these two outstanding teachers as their sponsors. We thank you, Mrs. Constance Kaylor and Mr. John Clements.

MRS. CONSTANCE KAYLOR
MR. JOHN CLEMENTS

Officers

As seniors, these students have become fully aware of the broad horizons ahead of them. Before they take their first steps on the diverse paths leading them into adulthood, the seniors are enjoying their last moments of adolescence—the socializing, Homecoming, the play, and the prom—but all the while they are storing knowledge and experience, preparing for the future and for the responsibility ahead.

To the left and above, we now begin a pictorial record of the memories of this year, as we show a glimpse of Homecoming.
Juniors

This year’s juniors were lent a helping hand by their able sponsors: from the left, Mr. John Geiger, Miss Vivian Johns, and Mr. William Kustes.

There has probably never been and never will be a class busier than the juniors, and probably no other year in school which provides as many memories.

1967’s junior class started their list of activities off in September with their annual magazine subscription drive. These hard workers earned $1500, more money than ever before collected to pay the expenses for the prom.

April brought the junior class play, "Desperate Ambrose," and in May a lot of fun and hard work resulted in the beautiful Junior-Senior Prom.

Now these juniors face different and not so distant horizons as they prepare to become the seniors of ’68.

"Reigning over Rams" was the theme of the junior class’ inventive Homecoming float.

Receiving their rings in January gave the juniors more time than ever before to show them off.

ORGANIZATIONS
Acting as representative voice of the student body, the Zephyrhills High School Student Council has played an important part in the making of many decisions which have greatly affected our school.

The Council also sponsors many projects and activities in which the students are able to participate. It is in charge of the annual Homecoming festivities, has an option on the Miniature Easter Parade chairmanship, and sponsors at least one film presentation for the student body a year. In addition, Council members were responsible for the new school pennants in circulation this year and for the new podium now in use.

A major objective reached by this Student Council was the establishment of an Intra-Club Council, shown at the top of the next page. Student Council President Kinney serves as chairman of the ICC, which is composed of representatives of each of the school's organizations.

The main purposes of the Intra-Club Council are to organize a schedule of school activities, to ease the strain on the Student Council, to consider the admittance of new clubs to the school system, to provide a means of communication for the clubs, and to serve as co-ordination committee for projects designed for the welfare of the student body.
Intra Club Council

An initial project of the Intra Club Council this year was to bolster school spirit, a goal which was attained primarily by asking members of the faculty to lead us in cheers at the pep rallies.

School Chorus

Students who participated in the newly initiated vocal music course this year are the members of this chorus, which has performed at several activities in the community and school.
Beta Club

National Beta Club is a service organization composed of high school students who have shown scholastic achievement, leadership ability, and good character.

This year's Beta leaders, shown at right, are: Mr. William Kustes, sponsor; Marcia Deming, president; Ray Hodges, vice president; Thea Dunnigan, secretary; and Patty Forbes, treasurer.

Among the projects undertaken by our Beta Club this year were the enameling of the home football bleachers, assistance of Beta members at the concession stands for home football games, the sale of toothbrush sets, and presentation of a school talent show. The last three projects helped raise the money to finance the trip of Mr. Kustes and several Betas to State Convention in May. Another project, that of initiating a junior high branch of Beta Club, won the high school group recognition as a banner club at that time.

Many of the senior Betas at right are planning to participate in the recently established college level division of the National Beta Club.
Interact is a worldwide organization whose members are dedicated to service and international understanding. It is sponsored worldwide by the Rotary Clubs of the world and locally by the Rotary Club of Zephyrhills. Also serving as sponsor is Coach Morris McHone, at far right in the photo above.

Young men who wish to join Interact Club must possess good character and leadership potential, must demonstrate high achievements in extra-curricular activities and maintain a grade average of C or better.

The Rotary concepts of "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves the Best" are taught in Interact, each of whose clubs are required to undertake at least two major projects a year, one intended to serve the school or community, the other to promote international understanding.

Under these boys' leadership, our division of FFA has won many district and national honors in several fields.

A junior chapter of the FFA has been established in our area. Its sponsor is Mr. Charles Garris, at rear center in the photo below.
Members of this organization are continually looking to the future. The club motto is "Toward New Horizons", one that fits in well with the mood of this yearbook.

This industrious group has been working on individual members' Chapter degrees, and sponsored an International Dinner, featuring the dishes and customs of other lands, and a Silver Tea, which was open to all the girls at school who wished to display unusual place settings.

Future Teachers of America, an organization for teens who plan a future in education, is also interested in the welfare of today's educators, their students, and the pupils' parents, as evidenced by the projects which club members undertook this year.

Several times during the year, FTA members babysat with younger children whose parents wished to attend PTA meetings. This baby-sitting was done free of charge.

FTA-ers arranged the useful, calendar-type bulletin boards which appeared at certain times during the year in the main hall of the high school building.

Another annual project of the FTA is to acquire and decorate the tree for the White Christmas ceremonies.

Pictured at right are the leaders of the Future Teachers of America. They are: Patty Forbes, president; Miss Jean Moschonas, sponsor; Karen Desmond, vice president; Glennis Massey, treasurer; and Andrea Lumert, secretary.
Diversified Cooperative Training, known as DCT, has been offered for many years as a program of training for students 16 years of age or over in their junior or senior year of high school and who display a definite desire to learn a trade or occupation with a view toward using such training for practical purposes - another group with their eyes on distant horizons.

The scope of training opportunities for interested students is as broad as the variety of businessmen who are willing to cooperate. Student learners earn three credits per year for their DCT work, aside from regularly earned school credits.

Our fine marching band spent the first half of the year doing their part to entertain the audiences at the football games.

A major project this year was the acquisition of funds to purchase new uniforms. Candy sales, Rotary-Club-sponsored concerts, and a large donation from the Civic Improvement group were among the main factors which helped the band come much nearer to its goal.

After rating first place in the marching division of the district band contest, the band members turned their attention to concert playing for that division of the contests.

Newly organized this year, the Exercising Teens are a division of the National Club 15 which is under the guidance of Campbell Foods. Their main goal is to improve their physical appearance through exercising routines and regular beauty sessions. In actuality, their mental attitudes are benefited also by their frequent gatherings to talk and work together.

This purposeful group should be around for some time.

Even Miss Reid gets into the act for the club sponsored car wash which raised almost $50 for the group.
The Bulldogger, a newspaper which chronicles events here at Zephyrhills High School, is just completing its third year as the professional-looking periodical it is. We have had newspapers off and on before this, but only in these last few years have we been able to use the facilities of the Zephyrhills News office.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Betty Hall, students who are interested in journalism publish this paper. These students are responsible for everything from the writing of the articles to the setting of the type and have worked hard at these jobs for the past year, bringing you the best newspaper that ZHS has ever had.

It is fairly certain that the regular office staff would have a very difficult time without the aid of these students who come in about two at a time per period. These assistants type up the bulletins, pass them around to the teachers, deliver messages, and do numerous other jobs including change the information on the outdoor bulletin board, which task is done regularly by Bob Nichols, pictured at left.
These girls are some of the most outstanding personalities at ZHS. Not only do our attractive Varsity Cheerleaders have all that pep and optimism, but they had to have a C average and leadership ability before they could even be considered as eligible for their posts. Mrs. Nadine Ferguson capably sponsors the cheerleaders, who this year sponsored the sale of megaphones and other projects to help finance the making of the several becoming outfits which they wore during the year. The Varsity Cheerleaders have given much encouragement to our Bulldogs and have served well as goodwill ambassadors to other schools, and for this they deserve our thanks.

Both of our cheerleading squads are closely related. Their only difference is in the grades from which they are selected. The J.V. Cheerleaders, chosen from girls in grades 8 and 9, are also sponsored by Mrs. Ferguson and have the same eligibility rules as do the Varsity squad. Both groups have to practice two afternoons a week and must appear at all of their respective teams' games throughout the football and basketball seasons. In the spring, cheerleading tryouts are held to determine which girls will be in the squads next fall. These tryouts consist of several weeks of practice and a final judging by faculty and student body. Below are last year's winners in the Junior Varsity division.

Members of this organization are, of course, primarily interested in the art of presentation. It is the purpose of the Dramatics Club to give these members a better knowledge of the various abilities involved in putting a play together, largely through the experience of letting them do it themselves. The Club presents two plays a year, the first one usually as a part of the White Christmas ceremony, and the other sometime during the second semester. Another purpose of the Dramatics Club is to help build the poise and self-confidence of the participating members.

At right are sophomore members, interested junior high students who attended meetings this year, and club sponsor, Mr. John Braswell.

Late last year the Dramatics Club presented two short plays. One was "Why Teachers Go Nuts," and scenes from the other, "Pardon My Second Scene," are shown here.

Doug Gall goes head over heels when his reclining chair breaks apart, and Rene Geddes looks on horrified.

With Doug out cold, Rene has difficulty putting up with a bumbling stagehand, Sandy Simons, who takes his place.

Pep Club

School spirit and its ups and downs are the items about which our Pep Club is concerned. Several days before our team is to be in a game, be it football, basketball, or baseball, the members prepare some morale-boosting posters which are put up in the halls to give encouragement to the Bulldogs. Pep Club members also attend as many of these games as possible, sitting in a group and adding their voices to those cheering our boys to victory.

Safety Patrol

This group, sponsored by Mr. Victor Smith, patrols the school crosswalks before and after school and promotes safety principles.

Junior Red Cross

As youth representative of the National Red Cross organization, the Junior Red Cross sponsors an annual drive to raise funds which help pay for the services rendered by the Red Cross all over the world. Members also participate in local service projects and are to be available for aid in case of major catastrophes. Club sponsor is Mr. Harikd Farris, and June Stanland is President.
This club's name expresses the reason why it was formed: its members are interested in unusual and interesting stamps.

The stamp collection used by the club and owned by club sponsor, Mr. Charles Rice, was featured in the high school exhibit at the county fair. Club officers, from the left in the front row, are: Jim Chapin, President; Rod Dayton, Vice President; and Cheryl Trogden, Secretary. Mr. Rice is at right in the rear of the photo.

As local branch of the Science Clubs of America, this organization is composed of students interested in going into the various divisions of the sciences. Several members participating in the county science fair won high honors for their exhibits.

Zephyrhills' long awaited dream is at last a reality. Our city and school have their new, excellent gymnasium-auditorium.

This building has brought us a great many advantages. Physical education classes have been improved by the addition of these facilities. School spirit has been increased in several ways by the completion of the gym; it has most especially been increased by the fact that the junior and senior highs are now able to assemble in one group. We've also been able to hold tournaments here in the gym.

On this page we see inside the completed gym and on the following page witness pictorially its development.

Boys' phys ed classes and the basketball teams were able to use the courts for several weeks before the girls.

Lockers in the dressing rooms provide for the storage of sports clothing.
The building slowly but surely begins to take shape.

Later, some finishing touches are added.

Our first game point in the gym was made against Santa Fe on January 21, 1967.

The formal ground-breaking shows us the appearance of the land which the gym was later to cover.

Miss Zephyrhills

Beautiful and poised MISS MARY STANLEY is the daughter of Mrs. Marco Stanley. Mary was born on February 14, 1949, in Dade City, Florida. She is a member of the senior class and is participating in Beta Club and as one of our peppy cheerleaders.
Each year we ask an unbiased person to judge our Yearbook Royalty. This year we are happy that Johnny Carson accepted the responsibility.

Dear Miss Daling:

Thank you for your very complimentary letter and for selecting me to judge your Zephyrso Royalty contest.

As you requested, I have chosen a King and Queen and two other couples as runners-up, and have marked the pictures accordingly.

Judging from pictures alone is very difficult and perhaps not the fairest way. I do hope the other candidates aren't too disappointed.

Congratulations and best wishes to all the contestants.

Sincerely,

Johnny Carson

Curriculum

SCIENCES

Two units in science are the minimum requirements for graduating with a diploma. Students may choose from among such varied divisions as general science, physical science, biology, chemistry, physics, earth science, and physiology.

We are able to learn more of the whys and wherefores concerning ourselves and the world around us by studying the numerous sciences.

MUSIC

This year vocal music was added to our curriculum to expand our choice of musical courses. Students taking this course learned to read music and formed the school chorus.

Music history and appreciation traces the development and history of music from very ancient times to the present. Students were able to hear music and were given lectures on art of the time periods covered. Thus the course serves as preparatory humanities instruction.

Students interested in playing music began in the sixth grade learning to play the instruments of their choice. Most of them continued on through junior high band and finally became members of the senior band.

LANGUAGES

Spanish and Latin are the foreign languages offered at school. As so many people near this area are of Spanish descent, students will find that the former language is very useful in the future. For students interested in ancient history, the classics, and the origins of many words in our language, Latin provides the main attraction.

Two years of a foreign language are required for a high school diploma.

Our native tongue, English, must be taken in all four years of high school in order for us to graduate with a diploma. In conjunction with this subject, speed reading was an optional course offered this year.
MATHEMATICS

One of the most important subjects in today's scientifically-minded world is mathematics. An ability to do at least simple computation is necessary in every type of work. Zephyrhills High School realizes this fact and requires a minimum of two units in this subject for graduation with a diploma.

Students may choose from the following: Algebra, physical science, plane geometry, trigonometry, and general mathematics.

HOME ECONOMICS

Instructors of this course promote good housekeeping by teaching their students the regular homemaker's talents for sewing, cooking, and other like chores, and developing in them the sense of economy. The major part of this is taught through experience training in the kitchen and sewing room of the home economics department.

SOCIAL STUDIES

In the belief that students must learn to be informed about the world around them in order to grow into good American citizens, our school offers a wide range of subjects which are grouped under the heading, "social studies." Among these are economics, world history, American history, problems in American democracy, and Americanism versus communism.
COMMERCIAL

For those interested in entering the business field, this course of study offers excellent training for the student who may go on to a job directly upon graduation, but who is advised to go on to a business school.

Subjects offered under this division include: general business, business math, first and second year typing, office practice shorthand, bookkeeping, business English, and business law.

DIVERSIFIED COOPERATIVE TRAINING

DCT is the primary vocational course offered at the school. It provides experience training by providing students with jobs in local businesses. DCT students go to regular classes half a day and work half a day. They receive three credits a year for their DCT work.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

This course is open to all students interested in the agricultural field, be it a farmer, or a participant in one of the many other diverse areas which constitute agricultural work.

Here students are instructed in horticulture, poultry raising, and livestock raising, and, too, receive experience training by doing field work such as shown at right.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Up to a short time ago, physical education classes were being held in areas behind our auditorium, on our infamous "cement slab," and on a nearby field.

Then came the completion of our wonderful gymnasium. Now many classes are held there, and these and some outdoor classes held in the aforementioned field provide students with an opportunity to become physically fit at all times.

Two years of physical education are required for graduation.

DRIVER'S EDUCATION

For half a year during the period allotted for physical education, students are given the opportunity to take a driver training course at school.

During the first six weeks students study rules of the road preparatory to taking a test to acquire their restricted licenses. They who pass then spend the next twelve weeks learning to drive in a car loaned to the school by an area auto salesman. Finally, the students are ready to successfully try for their regular driver's license.

LIBRARY

The primary source of information for all subjects and courses at Z. H. S., the library has an ever increasing number of books and reference materials from which students may acquire knowledge.

Mrs. Betty Hall, librarian, has also made available to students excellent paperback books which they may purchase for future use.
School Personnel

On behalf of the student body, we should like to take this opportunity to extend our appreciation to the people named below whose jobs are so necessary to every school and so often taken for granted.

Junior high school is a stepping stone between elementary school and high school. It gives students an opportunity to become used to the senior high, six-period routine as well as providing them with knowledge of fundamental subjects.

Included in the center of the section are junior high notables, and, at the end of the section photos of the junior high Homecoming will serve to bring back memories of that day.

Mirror, Mirror on the wall...
Epilogue . . .

All things must end, so the old saying goes. So must this school year draw to a close. However, from the year’s inception to its finish, there have been gathering many memories, remembrances which, in future years and during future endeavor, will be pleasant to bring to mind. It is hoped that the 1967 Zephil,co, itself now drawing to a close, will help someone in recalling those times and will help ease his way along the winding road to distant horizons.
